OBAN, the unprecedented fusion of chess and American football, set to conquer Paris Games Week 2025

Developed by OXXYMORE INTERACTIVE, OBAN introduces a revolutionary gameplay merging the intelligence of chess with the intensity of American football. A closed beta is scheduled for August 2025 ahead of an official 2026 launch.

A unique fusion

OBAN stands out with its hexagonal board and a ball mechanism inspired by American football. This blend creates a brand-new gameplay reinventing traditional strategy game codes.

E-sport and educational potential

Designed for e-sport, OBAN aims to establish itself on the international competitive scene. Its strategic approach also enhances thinking, memory and decision-making, bringing proven educational and cognitive benefits.

A major event

OBAN will be officially unveiled at Paris Games Week 2025, within the Game France Pavilion. Visitors will be able to discover and experience this new discipline firsthand.

An international ambition

With a multilingual version and deployment on PC and mobile, OBAN targets a global audience. Strategic partnerships are under discussion to support this expansion.

"With OBAN, we wanted to create a new strategic playground, accessible and competitive."

— Lucien Aloys SOLLO MBODO, creator of OBAN

"OBAN is not just a game, it is a new discipline we aim to bring onto the international stage."

— Alain-Christophe MBATONGA MANI, CEO of OXXYMORE INTERACTIVE
